The background of the book cover is a moody, atmospheric photograph. It depicts a body of water, likely a lake or a wide river, under a dark, overcast sky. In the foreground, several weathered wooden posts and beams are scattered across the water, some standing upright and others lying horizontally, creating a sense of decay and abandonment. In the middle ground, across the water, there is a small town or village. A prominent feature is a church with two tall, dark spires. The overall color palette is dominated by blues, greys, and muted earth tones, contributing to a somber and mysterious mood.
